

High Water

Water levels and flows across much of central Ontario remained elevated this week, due to past precipitation and snow melt, and are currently stable or receding at most gauging stations, according to recent statements issued by the Surface Water Monitoring Centre. For updates, see: <http://ontario.ca/flooding> (or click image at right)

Sections of Ontario cottage country, including Muskoka, Bancroft, the Gull River and other areas, have experienced high water in recent weeks, and the Muskoka Lakes Association (MLA) has created a new Task Force to investigate recent water and ice damage to docks and boathouses in that region. FOCA met with the Task Force representatives from MLA on April 19th in Bracebridge, to discuss next steps. Read the MLA media release. (PDF, 1 page)

Next week (May 1st-7th) will be Emergency Preparedness Week in Canada. As part of our role on the Partners for Action "P4A" Stakeholder Group, FOCA is committed to making our communities stronger in the face of climate change. FOCA knows we will see more extreme weather events in the years ahead, and encourages all property owners to remain updated on the issues, risks and responses. Dock Permit Dysfunction

Recent changes at the Ministry of Natural Resources and Forestry (MNRF) related to the permit process for docks and boathouses are causing a great deal of angst across waterfront Ontario. FOCA continues to follow this situation and is pressing MNRF to resolve this uncertainty.

Great Lakes Updates

A recent survey by the International Joint Commission indicated that 85% of Great Lakes citizens believe protecting the Great Lakes is highly important. Read Lake Ontario Waterkeeper's recent blog on the topic, including a link to the media release about the survey.

FOCA recently participated in a "Cross-Border Collaboration on Water" Roundtable, hosted the U.S. Consulate General and partners in Toronto. Consul General Juan Alsace was looking for high impact initiatives that could be actionable within the next 1-3 years. Many challenges lie ahead, but it is encouraging - and imperative - that there is strong political leadership on water issues on both sides of the border.

FOCA joined more than 100 environmental, health and advocacy groups in signing a letter to urge the Canadian and U.S. federal governments to designate radionuclides as Chemicals of Mutual Concern under the Great Lakes Water Quality Agreement. The City of Greater Sudbury was awarded a grant from the Ministry of the Environment and Climate Change to conduct 9 sub-watershed studies over the next two years.

With a geographic area of 3,627 square kilometers, the City of Greater Sudbury is the largest municipality in Ontario, based on land mass. Home to 330 lakes, Greater Sudbury is locally known as the "City of Lakes" and contains more lakes than any other municipality in Canada. Needless to say, these water resources are an important aspect of daily living in this community. The City of Sudbury hopes to get a "360° look" at the health of their watersheds, and to develop a strong framework for responsible development to preserve and enhance the natural environment. This new information will help support future efforts and inform updates to their "Waterfront and Rural Background Study" (PDF, 36 pages) as part of the City of Greater Sudbury Official Plan review process.

April 7, 2016 - Hydro One announced it will invest $20-million this year in the Districts of Muskoka and Parry Sound to reduce tree-related outages to improve reliability for 40,000 customers. In 2015, trees caused more than 400 outages on the segments of line targeted by this investment. Municipal Call-out

Following a great talk about municipal engagement by Dave Meslin at the FOCA Spring Seminar last month, FOCA has decided to "call out" good examples of work by cottage-country Municipalities who are making efforts to keep seasonal and waterfront residents informed and engaged.

Here's one example worth sharing:
The Municipality of Dysart et al (in the Haliburton Highlands) has posted great video resources on their webpage! Check out "Conserve - a Cottage Story" and much more, here: <http://www.dysartetel.ca/videos/>

Share this news with contacts at your Municipality, and please encourage them to get on the FOCA Elerst list to stay in-the-know about cottage country issues!
